The village tax sale will be held to-day, and all on which the taxes have not been paid will be sold to the highest bidder by Treasurer

Although the charter election is only two weeks off and new officers are to be elected, only a small amount of active interest is manifested by the local leaders, and no party conventions have been called. According to law the party nominations must be filed at least fifteen days before the election, and as this has not been one the nominathe clerk by Saturday. This means that there will be two, and possibly three, independent tickets in the field. President John Webber, Alderman Cabill and Joseph M. Ledwith are all mentioned as candidates for the presidency. The candidates for town officers in Mount Pleas nt are canvassing for delegates. Charles M. Lane, of Pleasantville, who represents the town in the inated by the Republicans. Members of Pocantico Hook and Ladder Company have petitioned the Board of Trustees to submit to the taxpayers at the charter election a proposition to appropriate $1.200 to purchase a new fire truck. The same proposition was voted on by the taxpayers last year, but was lost.

An interesting suit which promises to result in much litigation has been brought against this village by the Tarrytown National Bank. The case is a complicated one, due to the assignments of two of the parties to the suit. The village is supplied with water by the Pocantico Water Works Company, and the company bought coal from Smith, Kerr & Co. As security for the coal furnished early last summer the Pocantico company generally assigned to Smith, Kerr & Co. the money due it for rents of the hydrants in the village, which claim fell due on December 1, 1837. In July last Smith, Kerr & Co. falled, and they assigned the claim to the Tarrytown National Bank. Soon afterward a receiver was appointed for the water-works company, and he tried to claim the money. The Village Trustees will deposit the money with the Court, and let the receiver and bank fight it out.

Under the new law a poli tax of $1 is to be levied on all the male residents of the village between the ages of twenty-one and seventy, unless it is revoked by the voters. In order to settle the question the trustees have agreed to submit it to the people at the charter election on March 15. The trustees have decided to raise $1,500 in anticipation of the issue of sewer bonds to satisfy the immediate wants of the Sewer Commissioners.

An instance flustrating the parifolism of the children of the public schools occurred last week. A boy in the Trimity Place Grammar School drew up a petition regarding the Maine disaster and presented it to his classmates, asking that the school be closed and all join a New-Tork regiment and go to Havana. The petition, it is said, was signed by every boy and girl in the class.

MOUNT VERNON.

The women of the new Chester Hill Methodist Episcopal Church gave a reception and entertain-ment on Friday night at the home of Mrs. Will-iam Archer, in Corcoran Manor. The features of the evening were the vocal selections by Miss Mary Lewis and Miss Mattie Archer.

As the time approaches for the municipal election the organizations and candidates of both parties are becoming aroused and are making their desires known. The principal office to be filled this spring is that of Mayor, and there is little doubt that Mayor Edwin W. Fiske will again be the nominee of the Democratic party. Mayor Fiske was elected two years ago by more than 500 plurality, and still is looked upon as a formidable candidate. The Republicans, in order to defeat him, will be obliged to nominate some popular leader, free from factionalism and capable of commanding not only the Republican support, but the independent vote as well. All thought of placing a machine candidate in the field has been abandoned, and the leaders have practically agreed upon one of three men. These are ex-Alderman D. W. Whitmore, of the Fifth Ward, and Dr. Edward F. Brush. Mr. Whitmore has partially declined to allow his name to be considered, and it may be that Mr. Fiske will also decline to be a candidate against his son. Should this occur, an appeal will be made to Dr. Brush to lead the ticket. Dr. Brush was the first Mayor of the city, and is an anti-machine Republican and extremely independent in his views. A series of Lenten sermons in Trinity Episcopal Church was begun last night by the Rev. F. M. Clendenin, of West Chester. The sermons will be continued on Sunday nights during Lent by Archideacon Kirkby, of Rye: the Rev. F. R. Sandford, of Riverside; the Rev. A. B. Cerver, of Vonkers; the Rev. D. Parker Morgan, of New-York City, and the Rev. Charles F. Canedy, of New-Rochelle. The principal affairs announced for this week are the meeting of the Mount Vernon Chautauqua Circle in the First Methodist Episcopal Church tonight, the meeting of the Common Council and a concert in the Young Men's Christian Association Hall to-morrow night, and on Friday night the bas-ket-ball contest between the Yonkers and Mount Vernon Aldermen, which, although held in Yonkers, will be largely attended by the people of this city. tion the organizations and candidates of both parties are becoming aroused and are making

It has been practically settled by the Village Trustees to grant the trolley franchise sought by the New-York, White Plains and Elmsford Railroad Company for its line from Mamaroneck to White Plains and Tarrytown. The company has promised to have the road in operation by July 1. According to the terms of the franchise, the ears can carry both passengers and freight. They will leave each end of the line at intervals not to exceed thirty minutes during the day, and will be run hourly after 6 o'clock. No more than five cents can be charged within the limits of Mamaroneck, but it is expected that the fare will be five cents for each of the towns on the route, or 15 cents to White Plains.

Mrs. Booth is not fully recovered from her recent illness, and was not able to accomplish her usual amount of work among the inmates of the prison. Yesterday morning she addressed the convicts in the Protestant chapel, and was received with vigorous clapping of hands and other manifestations of pleasure. She spoke for about twenty minutes with her accusiomed fervor and eloquence. Speaking of her illness, she told her hearers that the work of the Prison League had not suffered thereby, but was going along satisfactorily, and that the doors of Hope Hall were as hospitably open as ever to every one who wanted to leave his past behind him and enter upon a new life of honesty and respectability. BRICK CHURCH CELEBRATION.

DR. VAN DYKE'S FIFTEEN YEARS' MINIS-TRY-A NEW ORGAN DEDICATED.

A great congregation assembled at the morning service yesterday at the Brick Presbyterian Thurch, Fifth-ave, and Thirty-seventh-st., when the new organ was dedicated and played for the teenth anniversary of the Rev. Dr. Henry van Dyke's ministry at the church, to commemo ch the organ was bullt. The services were to be held on the previous Sunday, but were postponed until yesterday, owing to a severe cold, from which Dr. van Dyke was then suffering.

A short time after the doors were opened was not a vacant seat in the church, and extra chairs, placed in the aisles, were also soon occu pled, many persons being obliged to stand. An laborate musical service was arranged by Walter Hall, the organist of the church, and the capabiltstrument was built by George S. Hutchings, of Boston, and is regarded as a magnificent specimen of the organ builder's skill. It cost $10,000. The action is electro-pneumatic, and the organ contains forty-five speaking stops, twelve in the great, fifin the swell, nine in the choir, and nine in the pedal departments. There are 3,072 pipes, comunication between them and the keys being estab-lished by means of a cable. The organ can be lery. The facilities for quick control are unique. The combination action enables the performer to arrange any combination of stops upon any one of series of pistons placed beneath each bank of keys. A crescendo pedal also places the whole reces of the organ, from the softest planissime control without drawing a single stop. Equality of volcing is obtained by different wind pressures.

Mr. Hall played as a prelude Gullmant's "Grand Chœur." The musical portion of the service also included the anthem "O Joyful Light," by Tours; Salome's "Berceuse" as an organ voluntary, and an organ postlude, "Sortie," by Dubois.

The Rev. Dr. van Dyke chose for his subject "Music in the Church." In the course of his sermon he alluded to the origin of music as being divine, and to its consecration from the earliest ages to the Church of God. The bast music obtainable, added Dr. van Dyke, should be provided for the services of the churches, and for this purpose was well to obtain the best instruments in their power. Music was one of the strongest forces acting for the production of harmony and unity in Christian life.

As an additional recognition of their appreciation of the work accomplished by Dr. van Dyke during his fifteen years' ministry, the elders, deacons and rustees of the church have presented to him on whalf of the congregation choice editions of the works of Chaucer and Richard Jeffries. These were accompanied by a letter, in which it was said:

were accompanied by a letter, in which it was said:
The highest eulogy which those who work can receive comes from their work when well done.
That your labor for us is deserving of all praise, you cannot fail to know. It is pleasant to be permitted to point to it at this time. You found us few in numbers, weak, despondent. To-day our numbers are full, our church is strong; we look with all confidence to the future. In God's providence, the change is due to you. But in a better sense than from the material side has the church progressed under your ministry. Its activity has made rapid strides; its usefulness has widened in innumerable directions; its people, in common attachment to you, have been drawn into closer common life for the upbuilding of the kingdom of God.

IMPORTANT PENSION DECISION.

OPPORTUNITY FOR REHEARING TO BE AFFORDED IN THOUSANDS OF CASES.

Washington, Feb. 27.-Under a decision rendered by Secretary of the Interior Hoke Smith, under the eveland Administration, May 27, 1893, in the case of Charles T. Bennett, Mr. Lochren, the Commissioner of Pensions, organized a board of revision in the Bureau of Pensions for the purpose of taking from the files claims which had been allowed under the act of June 27, 1890, for a re-examination. As a result of that re-examination by Assistant Secre-tary Webster Davis, pensioners were reduced or dropped in at least twenty-five thousand cases. Upon a careful revision of the examination then aken Mr. Davis has issued the following order relating to appeals pending before the Department in lating to appeals pending before the Department in such cases:

Department of the Interior, Washington, February 28, 1898.

It is directed that the pending appeals from the action of reducing or terminating of pensions granted under the second section of act of June 7, 1896, in accordance with the decisions rendered May 27, 1836, in the case of Charles T. Bennett G P. D., p. 1) shall be examined with great care. In cases where the evidence filed or the certificate of examination indicates that the pension originally allowed was warranted under a just and impartial construction of the law, they should be returned to the Bureau of Pensions for a special examination or another medical examination or both, as may be deemed necessary.

It is held to be proper and just that such pensioners shall be granted a fair hearing and be allowed an opportunity to show by competent proof that they were disabled in the degree and on account of the causes alleged at the date when the pension was reduced or terminated. It will be understood that this action disposes of the pending appeal in such cases by reversing the action taken by the Bureau of Pensions and remanding the case for further investigation, the reasons therefor being fully set forth.

WEBSTER DAVIS.

Assistant Secretary.

This order, the Department says, will result in giving all soldiers affected by the Bennett decision chance to be heard.

while so engaged, in the conduct, was considered in line of duty.

The Assistant Secretary holds that, as the records of the War Department are usually accepted as conclusive upon all other questions relating to a soldier's service, the contemporaneous record by the proper medical officer that the soldier was in line of duty when killed should be regarded, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, as controlling upon that question. Where such record does not appear the question of line of duty must be determined by the best obtainable parol evidence in each case.

rifle. On another occasion a band of Utes stole is bunch of forty horses from Mr. Hurt's ranch of the Platte, and he started after them as soon as he learned of the occurrence. A posse was made up at Rawlins to hasten to his assistance, but when a few milea out Hurt was met returning with the stolen horses and a number of Indian trophies. As late as 1872 Mr. Hurt was acting as guide, soout and hunter, and in 1875 took a contract to supply a Chicago house with five thousand antelope carcasses in one month, and easily carned the stipulated consideration. Before leaving Wyoming Mr. Hurt served a term as a member of the State Legislature, and he is well known all over the West.

WILD TALK IN THE C. L. U.

TWO DELEGATES WHO MAKE UNPATRIOTIC

HARANGUES SAT UPON BY THE OTHERS. Maine. It was started by Delegate Schwab, of the Cornice and Skylight Makers' Union, who declared that he did not believe in soldiers, because they were non-producers and hirelings of the upper classes. He said that he was opposed to any monument being raised to the sailors who went down in the Maine, and that all soldiers and sailors were hired by the monopolists to shoot down workingmen. He thought that a monument should be raised to the New-Bedford strikers.

Schwah's speech was hissed and jeered at by the delegates, and cries of "Sit down! Sit down!" were shouted from all parts of the hall.

Delegate Brown, of Cigarmakers' Union No. 144. also made a speech which caused a demonstration of disapproval. He declared that he did not believe in the people being patriots. He insisted that a war scare had been caused by sensational newspathey were ordered to go to Cuba by the Spanish Government, and they were compelled to obey. He added that the Maine's sailors had been sent to fight also, and that they, too, were paid for it.
"No workingman should be a patriot!" he exclaimed, and there was another outburst of disapproval. Delegate Lawrence, of the Actors' Protective Union, then arose, and, pointing to the American flag on the platform, declared that if such seditious talk was to continue the flag should be torn down. He declared that he was astonished to hear such sentiments uttered by delegates. The speaker was cheered to the echo.

Delegate Muliee, of the Excentric Engineers' Union, made a patriotic speech, in which he declared that the sailors on the Maine went to Cuba for patriotic motives. They went there to protect the lives of American citizens and their property

It pained and surprised him to listen to the remarks "Do people want to do away with this Govern-ment?" he asked. "Would they have a better one if it was done away with?" "No! No!" was shouted from all parts of the hall. The speaker then contrasted this Government with those of other countries, and he was loudly cheered when he finished.

those of other countries, and he was loudly cheered when he finished.

Delegate Dempsey said that he was born in Ireland and in many respects he was a citizen of the world, but he had selected this country in which to make a home for himself and family because he believed that its Government was the broadest, most liberal and best in the world. He denounced the seditious talk against soldiers in the strongest terms, and the hall rang with the cheers of the delegates.

A resolution indersing the proposition to raise a monument in memory of the sailors lest on the Maine was passed by a large majority, and James P. Archibald was appointed to represent the Central Labor Union on the committee having the matter in charge. MORE MONEY FOR CUBANS. The Central Cuban Relief Committee has issued
